2:30 EDITION

The BULLETIN always co-operates with its patrons to achieve results

Publicity is the only means of expansion. When the people are informed that you actually exist, that you have goods to sell, that you offer inducements to the purchaser, then your trade grows. This lesson has been learned by every merchant who advertises in the Evening Bulletin.

TRADE ENVOYS RETURN FROM JAPAN HOBSON WANTS FLEET IN PACIFIC

TRIUMPHAL TOUR DESCRIBED BY COMMISSIONERS

Fresh from their triumphal tour of Japan, Chairman F. W. Dohrmann and five members of the Honorary Commercial Commission representing the Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast, alighted from the liner Tenyo Maru this morning. Other than the chairman, the Commissioners who arrived are: Vice Chairman C. M. Cooke of Honolulu, John Waterhouse of this city, Wallace Alexander, M. Greenbaum, L. Greenbaum, Henry Michaels, and Dr. Caspar Pitschel, all of San Francisco; William Clayton of San Diego, and E. E. Skinner, president of the Eureka (Calif.) Chamber of Commerce. The other members of the Commission either remained over in the Orient or returned home by the preceding ship.

One and all the Commissioners are enthusiastic over the reception which they received at the hands of the Japanese and express themselves as being thoroughly convinced as to the friendship which is felt for the people of the United States in the Mikado's realm.

"The evident object on the part of the Japanese was to counteract a certain strained feeling resulting from the San Francisco incident, which, in my opinion, appeared much more serious to the Japanese than the circumstances justified, or than it did to the people of America," said Chairman Dohrmann in an interview with a Bulletin reporter this morning.

"The evident effort of the Japanese people was to demonstrate, both to our Commission and to the American Fleet, that the feeling, which they entertain toward the American nation is one of deep and sincere affection. They look upon the American people as the teachers and guardians of the Japanese people, in their efforts to become one of the Western nations and to be recognized as the equal of such."

"The Japanese look upon their teachers as next to their parents, and the idea of war between the two nations would seem to them, as one of their leading men expressed it to me, almost as great a crime as to fight against their own parents."

"The methods adopted to bring these facts home to us were very enthusiastic, but seemed to us so entirely genuine, coming as they did from the highest as well as the lowest, that none of us today have a question in our minds as to their sincerity."

"Another object which the Japanese evidently had in view was to establish closer business relations between the two nations. They demonstrated that, in many cases, where they bought goods from countries other than the United States, it was because the Americans did not hold out sufficient inducements or make sufficient effort to secure such trade.

"We became thoroughly satisfied that, when quality and figures are about even, representatives of American houses will always have the preference in obtaining orders.

"One of the things that impressed us was the great progress made by the Japanese in the manufacturing field.

"There are many things with which America formerly supplied the Orient that are now being manufactured in Japan. On the other hand, as the Japanese people become wealthier, their wants will develop and their purchasing power will increase, so a properly fostered trade between the two nations is, in our opinion, capable of being much increased."

Mr. Dohrmann is a man well fitted for the important post of chairman of the Commercial Commission. He has had wide experience in public affairs and is closely identified with the commercial interests of these islands and the Pacific Coast.

He is a director or extensive stockholder in the following concerns: Dohrmann Commercial Co., San Francisco; Nathan-Dohrmann Co., San Francisco; Parmelee-Dohrmann Co., Los Angeles; W. W. Dimond & Co., Ltd., Honolulu, T. H.; Howell-Dohrmann Co., Oakland; Trinkler-Dohrmann Co., San Jose; Yost-Dohrmann Co., Stockton; Southern Crockery Co., Los Angeles.

Just before leaving Yokohama, the Commissioners prepared an address to the people of Japan, which was published, in Japanese, throughout the empire. The address covered the main points gleaned from the tour, after the Commissioners had had opportunity to consider all phases of the journey carefully. The address follows:

Tokyo, November 5, 1908.
 To the People of Japan:—Before returning to our country we, the Honorary Commercial Commissioners representing the Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast of the United States of America, desire to express our heartfelt gratitude and the appreciation for the innumerable courtesies and abundant hospitality extended by the Chambers of Commerce of Tokyo, Kyoto, Osaka, Kobe, and

AFFIDAVIT FILED IN OPPOSITION

County Attorney Cathcart Denies Thurston's Allegations

The hearing of the order to show cause why John W. Cathcart should not put up a bond to cover the costs of his suits against the Advertiser was put over until Wednesday, November 25th, this morning by Judge De Bolt, at the request of the counsel for the Hawaiian Gazette Company and Walter G. Smith, Cathcart's attorneys, Milverton and A. G. M. Robertson objected, but their objections were overruled.

County Attorney Cathcart this morning filed an affidavit in opposition to the order to show cause, stating that he has been engaged in the practice of law in this Territory for some years past, and that his practice has been constantly growing. He denies the allegation of statement made in the affidavit of Lorrin A. Thurston to the effect that he would not be able to pay the costs of the suit, if it went against him.

He also denies that the costs of the suit will amount to the sum of $250, but on the contrary avers that they will not exceed the sum of $100.

TENYO ARRIVES IN PORT FROM ORIENT

"Nippon Ra-h! Nippon Ra-h! Nippon, Nippon, Banzai!" As the magnificent liner Tenyo Maru was coming along to her berth at the Haekfield wharf this morning bearing the Chambers of Commerce delegation which visited the "Land of Chrysantheums," the members grouped themselves on the main deck and greeted the crowd which assembled on the wharf with the Japanese yell. C. M. Cooke, one of the members, acted as a captain. The yell was given with enthusiasm and force.

In response, Mr. Cooke's family, consisting of Mrs. Cooke, Sr., the boys, the girls, the relatives, including J. P. Cooke and F. J. Lowrey, and friends, grouped themselves on the wharf, and, at the signal given by Clarence Cooke, they shouted "Banzai." It was a jolly family reunion.

Among the members of the Pacific Coast Chambers of Commerce who are returning are W. M. Alexander, W. Clayton, F. W. Dohrmann, M. Greenbaum, L. Greenbaum, Henry Michaels, Dr. Casper Pitschel and wife, and E. Skinner. The Honolulu cabin passenger list comprised C. M. Cooke, Miss Alice Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. John Waterhouse and K. Ito, of the Japanese Foreign office, who comes here as one of the secretaries of the local Japanese Consulate-General.

The Tenyo Maru, after leaving Yokohama, encountered rather unpleasant weather. This continued for two days, after which the trip was pleasant. She brought 946 tons of general cargo and 47 bags of mail for this port. In her stowage, there were 55 Japanese for Honolulu.

Attorneys Prosser And Peters Clash In Criminal Case

One alleged-to-be-lost butcher knife, two warring attorneys, and Lawyer Prosser's cross-examination of himself were some of the features in the case of the Territory vs. Kimura, charged with knifing a Chinaman at the Moana Hotel, which was continued in the Criminal Court before Judge Robinson this morning.

To use a time-worn Western phrase the opposing counsel in the case are certainly "hostile," and as each of them happens to possess a good pair of lungs, at times the listener might fancy that there was a real fight in progress. Especially was this noticeable this morning when Prosecuting Attorney Prosser stated to the Court that he wished to show by a certain Chinese witness, who was then on the stand, that the defendant had attempted to quiet the suit by an offer of something over $200 in cash.

Mr. Peters, for the defense, interposed, and told Mr. Prosser that he didn't care what he wanted to show, the proposition was distinctly unfair, and should be stricken from the records. The Court ordered so, and also instructed the jury to disregard the statement of Mr. Prosser, who then stated that he closed his case for the prosecution.

Mr. Peters then asked Mr. Prosser to take the stand, waiving the oath. The question of identification of the knife with which the cutting is alleged to have been done was then brought out. The knife was supposed to have been stolen, or lost from the Grand Jury room at the time the indictment was brought in. Peters asked Prosser if he knew what had become of the knife when it disappeared.

"Why, Mr. Peters, I thought you might have pinched it," answered the prosecutor, later, however, qualifying the statement, stating that he never thought it seriously.

The case is almost finished now, the prosecution having finished.

The sailing time of the Tenyo Maru for the Coast has been changed until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

FREAR TO LOOK UP FAIR MATTERS

"Hawaii Avenue" May Be Tropical Garden At Seattle

Governor Frear, who left on the transport Crook, will attend to a great many matters in the interests of Hawaii with regards to her exhibit at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition while he is in Washington, and it is thought that he will take these matters up with the authorities there immediately on his arrival. It is probable that the result of his investigation—so to speak, will give those who are working on the proposition here the first definite idea of how Hawaii's exhibit is to be handled.

Special Agent Lloyd Childs has a great many of the features of the Island Territory exhibit already worked out, committees are planning and working, the Commissioners are busy, and, on the whole, everything is going along swimmingly. But there are other things to be taken into consideration. The question of transportation has not yet been settled, and this is vital. The question of arrangement of space in Hawaii's own little building has not been settled, and this also is important. Governor Frear will look into these matters and will probably report to the Commissioners within a very short time after his arrival at Washington.

There is a pretty little avenue running up from Lake Washington, past the Government building, and facing Hawaii's building at the Fair grounds in Seattle, and the street is called "Hawaii Avenue." If possible, it is proposed to make this street a real tropical garden, with all sorts of transplanted trees and plants growing in profusion. Then there will be the honey exhibit, the pineapple exhibit, native wood and furniture, sugar, the school exhibit, sial, rubber, fresh fruit, fish, and the art exhibits to be made up.

At present there are twelve committees working on different features for the exhibit, besides the Commissioners and Mr. Childs.

Mayor's Appointments To Be Made Next Month

"Some of our friends seem to be worrying considerably over the manner in which the appointments under the City and County are to be made," said E. M. Watson, the Democratic attorney, this morning. "You may say that the Democrats are not worrying at all over the matter, as the Municipal Act very clearly provides therefor. You will have noticed that the Legislature, in framing the Municipal Act, in several instances made special provisions for the inaugurating of this form of government, and such a special provision has been made in regard to the appointments also."

Watson then referred to the general section of the Act, relating to appointments, which reads as follows: "Section 81. The Mayor, with the approval of the Board of Supervisors, shall appoint all officers of the City and County whose election or appointment is not otherwise specially provided for in this Act. When a vacancy occurs in any office, and provision is not otherwise made in this charter or by law for filling the same, the Mayor, with such approval, shall appoint a suitable person to fill such vacancy who shall hold office for the remainder of the unexpired term."

"You will see, however, the matter of the appointments for the first term under the Act has been covered by a special section, which gives the Mayor the full appointing power," continued Watson. "The Legislature evidently foresaw the interrum which would follow, when all the officers holding office under the present Constitution should be removed."
